Property overview

This house is a one-of-a-kind, design-led tropical modern villa in one of Phuket's most desired addresses, Bangtao. Award-winning Australian architect Patrick Keane and Enter Projects Asia have created an inspiring contemporary home that showcases the noble materials of brick, slate, glass, and wood. Influenced by midcentury modern ethos with organic forms, its stunning outlines are equally evocative by day and by night. Directly overlooking the Golf championship course, the property is within an exclusive gated estate that is part of the island's premier destination, Laguna Phuket. Newly completed and ready to move into, The house is unlike any other island villa and has been lovingly created for an owner who wants to live a life less ordinary. Featuring four bedrooms, four bathrooms, and dual living rooms, it offers a multi-dimensional lifestyle. Fronting a golf course water feature showcasing an 18-meter free-form pool there is also a mid-house interior courtyard green private space that opens to the sky with two date palms striking a bold silhouette. Included in the house are crafted, custom wood-led interior furnishings. The house is a green, energy-efficient home that includes fully installed solar panels and inverter, a hybrid water heater, an EV connection, and a pool saltwater chlorinator. Roof overhangs and house orientation are part of a future-facing design that has prioritized the invention of a collection of livable spaces.
